

NO JUSTICE

NO PEACE

WHY PROTEST?

Illustrations by students at Fulton High School • Knoxville, Tennessee

I protest to say out loud that I don't agree with this & I LOVE & SUPPORT the people I am standing/marching/protesting with.

@YOURSTRULYRET

For an equal and just society

@DVWOOLLEN

Protest = public demand

@DAVIDGEORGE265

Protest because vulnerable people need to see public support.

@ADJECTIVALNOUN

Protest is you showing powerful people that your voice matters and that you have strength when you come together

@FENGXII

flight is inevitable with wings
so is change with protest
NAOMI N.

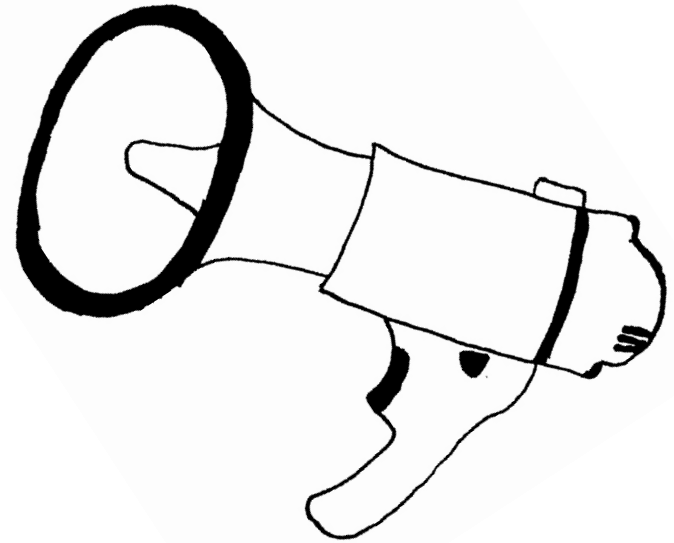

To assert my own self-respect
@M_HRNDZ

So I can sleep at night.
@PRESTONMAJOR

Protest because, "Your silence will not protect you." Audre Lorde
AMANDAMICHELLE JONES

Because sometimes you need to shut things down to open them up
@ALLISONTEBBE

Because "power concedes nothing without a demand. It never did and it never will"

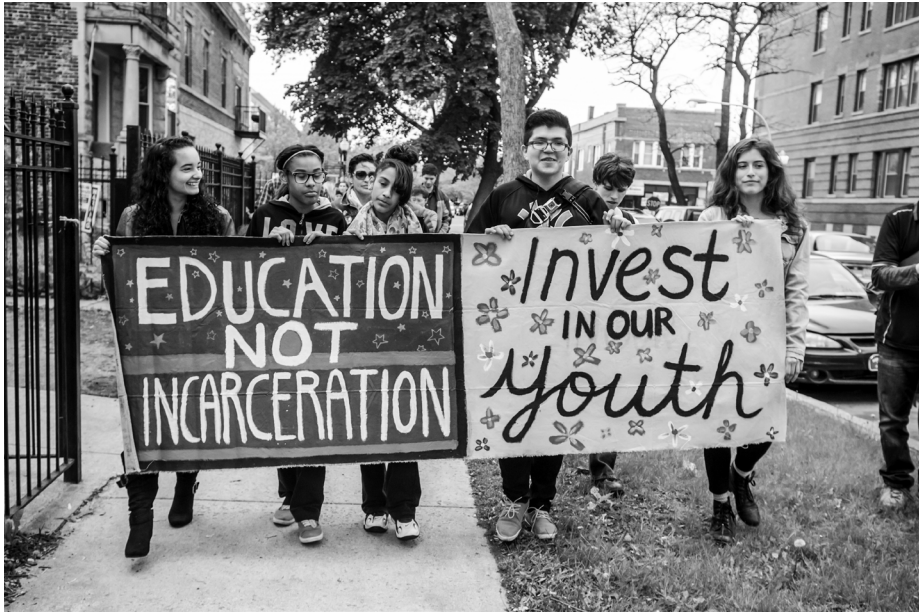

FREDERICK DOUGLASS

Protest to find each other.
Protest to learn how.
Protest to live fully.
Protest to be free.
Right now.

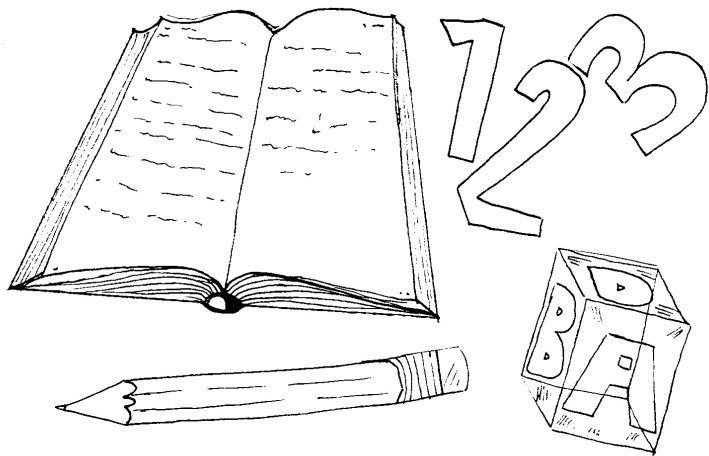

@DELFINNIEFINN

Find and grow community, exercise,
get attention to issues and it scares
those who think they are in charge.

@TERRIGROTH

For those who can't.

@ROBOTSIMMONS

I protest to use my voice when
I know others cannot

MARIA ELAINE

Otherwise, the bullies rule the playground
